Week in Review

Love is in the air this week as Valentine's Day approaches, and technology is in the news as it continues to impact and influence the development of the law. A Senate committee approved a bill this week that would allow television access to Supreme Court proceedings. A Texas court upheld the use of a defendant's MySpace page as evidence in his murder conviction. The country of Brazil filed suit against Twitter to try to block accounts that warn drivers of speed traps and roadblocks. And just as the law has collided with technology, Cupid's arrow has struck mobile devices everywhere, producing sweet apps for Valentine's Day.
